Executive Summary
Introduction

Every school has its own story to tell. The context in which teaching and learning takes place influences the processes and procedures by which the school makes decisions around curriculum, instruction, and assessment. The context also impacts the way a school stays faithful to its vision. Many factors contribute to the overall narrative such as an identification of stakeholders, a description of stakeholder engagement, the trends and issues affecting the school, and the kinds of programs and services that a school implements to support student learning.

The purpose of the Executive Summary (ES) is to provide a school with an opportunity to describe in narrative form the strengths and challenges it encounters. By doing so, the public and members of the school community will have a more complete picture of how the school perceives itself and the process of self-reflection for continuous improvement. This summary is structured for the school to reflect on how it provides teaching and learning on a day to day basis.
Description of the School

Describe the school's size, community/communities, location, and changes it has experienced in the last three years. Include demographic information about the students, staff, and community at large. What unique features and challenges are associated with the community/communities the school serves?

Waterloo is located in North Alabama. It is a small rural community in the Western part of Lauderdale County. It is part of the Florence - Muscle Shoals Metropolitan Statistical Area known as "The Shoals". As of the 2010 census, the population of the town is 208. The town was incorporated in 1832 on the banks of the Tennessee River. In the 1930s, the town was moved to its current location when the Tennessee Valley Authority completed the Pickwick Landing Dam, which impounds Pickwick Lake.

The median income in 2010 was $18,214; this is below the state average. Our school enrollment in grades K thru 12 is 322 students. The racial makeup of our school is White 96%, Black 1%, Hispanic 2%, and American Indian 1%. Our faculty is made up of 94% White and 6% Black.

The students of Waterloo are unique in that the school zone borders two other states. We have several students from Tennessee in our school population. The majority of our students are bused to school.

Another unique point for Waterloo is that work opportunities are limited, as there are few industries in Waterloo. Most families have to drive to Florence, Alabama to work or to Savannah, Tennessee.

Our vision reads, "The vision of Waterloo School is to foster a love of lifelong learning in a safe and caring environment." We formulated our vision by consulting with community members, faculty members and students.

Waterloo revised the vision for the school when SACS renewal time came. The faculty met then, formed a school committee to develop a vision statement for our continuous school improvement plan. The committee did a community survey and a school wide self assessment. The community committee was comprised of students, community leaders, parents, and business leaders. Faculty members were presented with an assessment. All the data was compiled and the above vision statement came from that information.
School's Purpose

Provide the school's purpose statement and ancillary content such as mission, vision, values, and/or beliefs. Describe how the school embodies its purpose through its program offerings and expectations for students.

Data from a variety of assessments is analyzed. ARMT +, DIBELS, STAR Testing, and benchmark test from the Scott Foresman Reading Series (benchmark test). Data from the testing is review at the beginning of the year for grade levels. The dynamics of classes are reviewed. Grade level data meetings take place to develop goals for achievement for the Continuous Improvement Plan (CIP). Continuous improvement is important to our school and to our community. Instruction is driven based on data from our Continuous Improvement Plan.

To prepare students, a variety of programs are utilized. These programs foster lifelong learning skills. Programs offered are ARI (Alabama Reading Initiative), AMSTI (Alabama Math, Science, and Technology Initiative), and ASIM (Alabama Science in Motion). These programs use basic knowledge to stimulate learning using manipulative and using team work to foster learning.

Waterloo provides online distance classes for courses not readily available to students due to limited resources. These classes are offered through an ACCESS computer lab. These classes continue to support the vision of Waterloo through the used of technology. A continuous review of schedules dictates which classes offered to the students. Teachers at Waterloo use the Alabama Course of Study (COS), researched-based strategies (Best Practices), ARMT +, DIBELS, STAR, Alabama High School Graduation Exam (AHSGE), and Benchmark tests to provide the best curriculum, to provide the best learning strategies, to provide the best teaching strategies and to provide the most appropriate assessments to meet Local Standards, Alabama Standards, and National Standards. To accomplish continuous improvement meetings of all types occur through out the year, Data meeting, and PST (Pupil Support Team) meetings ARI meeting, CIP meetings.

Waterloo’s stakeholders are vital to the school’s success. Stakeholders are encouraged to be involved in the decision process in several ways. The staff is encouraged to provide input during various meetings and various committees.

Notable Achievements and Areas of Improvement

Describe the school's notable achievements and areas of improvement in the last three years. Additionally, describe areas for improvement that the school is striving to achieve in the next three years.

Waterloo School faces several challenges. In the past few years, we have had challenges like everyone else in the area of funding, staff cuts and staff turnovers. We are striving to get the community and students to believe that we have the potential to be great.

The Waterloo community is very unique. The land mass of Lauderdale County ends here in Waterloo. The city of Waterloo extends no more than five miles, but the county outreach is several miles. Waterloo is at the end of the state line. Our neighboring state of Tennessee is only a few miles from our school.

More than 98% of Waterloo students are bused to school, since very few of our students are in the city limits. Most residents of this area travel to Florence, Alabama, or to Savannah, Tennessee, to work. Waterloo does not have many opportunities for work. Most of our families have an income level that qualifies Waterloo to be a Title I school.
Additional Information

Provide any additional information you would like to share with the public and community that were not prompted in the previous sections.

The vision for our school despite our location and despite our population is that we have what is needed to be as successful as our large school counterparts. To believe that our location provides opportunities to do things other schools can not offer or that the large school can not replicate. We strive to make AYP just like any school in our district. We strive to improve our ARMT Math and our ARMT Reading goals. We strive to use Best Practices in all grades.
Self Assessment
Introduction

AdvancED's Self Assessment (SA) diagnostic is based on the AdvancED Standards of Quality, which serves as the foundation of the accreditation and continuous improvement process. The SA is a valuable tool for collaboratively engaging staff members and stakeholders in purposeful, honest dialogue and reflection to assess the institution's adherence to the Standards, and guide its continuous improvement efforts. The SA includes the institution's self-ratings of and the evidence cited for each of the indicators, comments that explain the indicator's ratings and an overall narrative for each Standard. The results of the SA are reviewed by the External Review Team as one essential component of the preparation process for the institution's External Review.
Standard 1: Purpose and Direction

The school maintains and communicates a purpose and direction that commit to high expectations for learning as well as shared values and beliefs about teaching and learning.

| 1.3       | The school's leadership implements a continuous improvement process that provides clear direction for improving conditions that support student learning. | School leaders implement a documented, systematic continuous improvement process for improving student learning and the conditions that support learning. All stakeholder groups are engaged in the process. School personnel maintain a profile with current and comprehensive data on student and school performance. The profile contains analyses of data used to identify goals for the improvement of achievement and instruction that are aligned with the school's purpose. Improvement goals have measurable performance targets. The process includes action planning that identifies measurable objectives, strategies, activities, resources, and timelines for achieving improvement goals. School leaders hold all school personnel accountable for and evaluate the overall quality of the implementation of all interventions and strategies. The process is reviewed and evaluated. Reflect upon your responses to each of the indicators and performance levels by considering and responding to the following questions when drafting your narrative response. Use language from the performance level descriptions to guide your writing. Cite sources of evidence External Review team members may be interested in reviewing.

Strength:
Our continuous improvement plan (CIP) is facilitated by our school's leadership and communicated with our stakeholders. It provides specific goals and actions needed to achieve our high expectations for our students. Our brief vision statement states our values and beliefs about the culture of our school and the people who share that vision.

Weakness:
The remote location of our school fosters a close-knit family oriented community. However, it can make developing strong relationships with stakeholders outside of the teachers and parents of Waterloo School challenging and problematic.

One way we plan to make improvements in this area of need is for school personnel to make a personal visit to businesses located in the school district.
Standard 2: Governance and Leadership

Indicator 3.10

Statement or Question: Grading and reporting are based on clearly defined criteria that represent the attainment of content knowledge and skills and are consistent across grade levels and courses.

Response: Teachers use common grading and reporting policies, processes, and procedures based on clearly defined criteria that represent each student's attainment of content knowledge and skills. These policies, processes, and procedures are implemented consistently across grade levels and courses. Stakeholders are aware of the policies, processes, and procedures. The policies, processes, and procedures are regularly evaluated.

Evidence:
- Sample report cards for each grade level and for all courses
- Survey results
- Policies, processes, and procedures on grading and reporting
- Samples communications to stakeholders about grading and reporting
- Evaluation process for grading and reporting practices

Rating: Level 3

Indicator 3.11

Statement or Question: All staff members participate in a continuous program of professional learning.

Response: All staff members participate in a continuous program of professional learning that is aligned with the school's purpose and direction. Professional development is based on an assessment of needs of the school. The program builds capacity among all professional and support staff. The program is systematically evaluated for effectiveness in improving instruction, student learning, and the conditions that support learning.

Evidence:
- Survey results
- Brief explanation of alignment between professional learning and identified needs
- Crosswalk between professional learning and school purpose and direction

Rating: Level 3

Indicator 3.12

Statement or Question: The school provides and coordinates learning support services to meet the unique learning needs of students.

Response: School personnel use data to identify unique learning needs of all students at all levels of proficiency as well as other learning needs (such as second languages). School personnel stay current on research related to unique characteristics of learning (such as learning styles, multiple intelligences, personality type indicators) and provide or coordinate related learning support services to all students.

Evidence:
- Data used to identify unique learning needs of students
- Survey results
- List of learning support services and student population served by such services

Reflect upon your responses to each of the indicators and performance levels by considering and responding to the following questions when drafting your narrative response. Use language from the performance level descriptions to guide your writing. Cite sources of evidence External Review team members may be interested in reviewing.

Strength:

The curriculum and learning experience provides opportunities for all students to develop learning skills, thinking skills, and life skills. Teachers use proven instructional practices that actively engage students in the learning process; provide students with opportunities to apply their knowledge and skills to real world situations.

Weakness:
Overall, more school staff needs to participate in collaborative learning communities that meet both formally and informally to ensure improvement in instructional practice and student performance. Instructional practices are monitored randomly by school leaders to ensure that teachers are teaching the approved curriculum, engagement with all students is taking place, and adequate use of content specific standards.

Another area in need of improvement is the engagement of all staff members in mentoring, coaching, and induction. Our plan is to study other such programs in use at other schools and develop our own process.

Strength:

The school calendar is carefully designed to achieve optimal instruction throughout the school year.

Our Pupil Support Team is instrumental in identifying students who are at risk and in need of special education referral. Outside resources are brought in to our school that support counseling and career planning needs for students when necessary.

Qualified professional and support staff are sufficient in number to fulfill their roles and responsibilities necessary to support the schools purpose, direction, and the educational program.

Weakness:
Presently Waterloo has only one English teacher for grades 7-12, with both sections of classes combined into one class during each period giving her 10 different class preparations within a 6-period day. This teacher serves 153 students everyday of various ages, classes and diploma tracks which is entirely too wide of a range for any teacher to be able to effectively meet the needs of every student that they serve especially in a core class such as English.

There is also a need for a Computer Lab Aide. Our students, particularly in grades 3-8 are not receiving the computer instruction that they need, and the upkeep and maintenance of our lab is suffering due to the lack of qualified personnel.

Local personnel do what they can to maintain the overall school environment in keeping it safe, clean and healthy. However, maintenance and upkeep is an ongoing challenge.
Standard 5: Using Results for Continuous Improvement

The school implements a comprehensive assessment system that generates a range of data about student learning and school effectiveness and uses the results to guide continuous improvement.

Areas of Strength:
We show strength in the development and use of the Continuous Improvement Plan through a data driven process. The INow system grade book provides a systematic means of recording and compiling assessment data, including comparison and trending.

We provide tutoring for students identified through data analysis and we use AHSGE data to provide remediation as well. We also use DIBELS and Differentiated Instruction (Tiered) to regroup students.

Actions to Sustain Our Strength:

We will continue to use assessment data to make informed decisions in order to develop our achievement goals as stated in our Continuous Improvement Plan. The use of Tiered instruction will promote student transition across the curriculum. We will continue using tutoring for students needing remediation.

Areas Needing Improvement:

Improve the school culture for more collaborative analysis for use of current data from assessments as it applies to differentiated instruction. Currently, data analysis shows a need for improvement in Math scores in specific grades.

Plans to Improve Areas of Need:

Allow more time for Departmental meetings during faculty meetings and use data meetings for more extensive collaborative efforts overall, specifically Math.
